

Bedford Street Pocket Park: Delivering more open space in North Melbourne

City of Melbourne is transforming the existing green spaces in Bedford and Courtney streets into a new park that will include a playspace and activities area.

What's been happening?

Crews have been getting on with digging and excavation works at the corner of Queensberry and Peel streets.

What's coming up and temporary parking changes

From late January 2024, we will start works to deliver new open space on Bedford Street between Peel and Capel streets.

To ensure that residents still have access to parking for the duration of the works, we will introduce temporary resident excepted parking conditions to 13 bays on Bedford Street between Capel and Courtney streets.

A map is include on the next page with more information.

Construction impacts

Crews will be conducting demolition, digging and drainage works so we can deliver a better parking bay layout for residents and the community.

Works will be carried out between 7am and 5pm on Monday to Friday, with occasional works occurring between 8am and 3pm on Saturdays when required.

Car, pedestrian, bike riding and driveway access will be maintained at all times and traffic management will be in place to support people moving through the area.

Nearby residents and businesses can expect low levels of noise.

Project update January 2024

Local residents who hold resident parking permits in zone 5 are now able to use the 13 car park bays on Bedford Street, between Capel and Courtney streets (area highlighted in green).

The car park bays highlighted in red will be occupied by crews from late January, with spaces reopening once works are complete in that area.

Please check the signs when you park.
